WOMEN LAWS IN INDIA AND DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

The Women Empowerment Cell of Easwari Engineering College organized Faculty Development Program for the Faculty members and Non-teaching staffs of EEC on 22.05.2021 at 11.00a.m to 12.00 Noon. The Honorable Guest speaker of the day was Mr.M.Rajasekar, Advocate, High Court, Chennai. Dr. S. Kayalvizhi, Professor/CSE and Convener of Women Empowerment Cell welcomed the gathering and briefed about the act 2013, Sexual Harassment of Women at Work place. Presidential address was given by Dr. K.M. Anand Kumar, Vice Principal (Admin). Mrs.D.Chandrakala, Assistant Professor/EEE & Coordinator of this program introduced the Guest.

The Guest speaker Mr.M.Rajasekar delivered speech on the rights of women, constitutional rights with various acts and laws in India. He highlighted the Domestic Violence act for the protection of women. He also covered the articles of Equality of women before law, prohibition of discrimination and equality of opportunity for women in Indian Constitution. The participants curiously asked queries in various laws and security of women and the speaker answered them with statistics. The session was highly informative and more interactive. Around 65 Faculty members and Non-teaching staffs of EEC had participated and benefitted.
